

Do you remember the 1980's movie, "Network" with Peter Finch and Faye Dunaway? The lead character, Peter Finch, was a TV Anchor that went on a tirade against the government and coined the phrase "I am mad as hell and I am not gonna take it any more!"

I don't recall much about the incidentals, but I do remember watching one of the greatest, most inspiring movie scenes ever. After Mr. Finch's live broadcast to millions of viewers, people ran to their windows, threw open the panes and started shouting, virtually in unison, "We're mad as hell and we're not gonna take it any more!"

In that single moment, one person became many. One purpose was shared by thousands and the demand of the multitudes became one voice.

Okay, okay, so it was only a movie, color me an idealist. But isn't this the country that's supposed to foster and encourage idealism? Aren't we the nation that gave birth to inestimable icons like Thomas Edison, Abraham Lincoln and Dr. Martin Luther King?

Hi, I'm Christa Chantal Allen and welcome to my first official broadcast for European-designer-against-stupid-bush, also known as: Impeach Bush Now! This site has been designed to give a voice to the throngs of people who are confused, confounded, or just fed-up with the double-speak the world at large is getting from Washington, D.C. My 2 subjects today are junior's illegal and unlawful wire-tapping, plus some shocking news about a peace proposal the Iranians made in 2003!

I didn't think that the White House would lend me a teleprompter for my project and I want you to know that I am reading my script from about 10 feet away. I am a tiny, but truly dedicated grass-roots organization, using one hand to scroll down my notebook computer and realize that you probably already noticed. I am afraid that the mouse I am holding might become a projectile and fly across the room if I were to be my usual, much more animated self!

Why is this broadcast different from the scores of other politically motivated web pages? To begin with, I am not a writer, journalist nor a political powerhouse with an ulterior motive. I am not a member of the mainstream media and have no connections to the Fox kennel that dilutes and skews the information to fit their biased politics. I'm a Fashion Designer and Entrepreneur who has had her fill of the endless three ring political circus we've all grown so accustomed to.

In fact, I'd prefer an actual circus to the political lunacy that is running amok in America today. We could all sit back and "ooh and ah" as Ms. Rice swings overhead on a flying trapeze, stunning us with her feats of a (verbal) contortionist! We realize she's not actually in control of anything, just window dressing in a fancy costume. Now compare real talent, the former Secretary of State, Ms. Madeleine Albright who actually had leadership savvy and proven that she was a serious Diplomat. Ms. Albright certainly would never embarrass the US by telling a foreign country obviously blatant, outrageous and despicable lies!

And what circus is complete without the hordes of goofy clowns piling out of a ridiculously tiny car, one by one. Logically, you know that it has to be a trick. You can't fit 47 grown men and women into a Volkswagen bug; it's a physical improbability. But the clowns, and I am sure you've guessed by now I mean Congress, are only there for the comedic relief anyway. The Ring Master allows them to spin about, creating havoc so no one in the audience gets bored or pays attention to what he's doing.

And who exactly is directing this orgy of entertainment? None other than the Ring Master himself, Dick Cheney (a.k.a. W's Boss and shooter-in-training, maybe he shouldn't have ducked out of the military service?) You don't think I was going to say George Bush, did you? C'mon! The man doesn't even know when our country's major port transactions are being handed over to an Arab group that funneled money to Al Qaeda for 9/11. He professes absolute concentration on America's National Security, but learns about the UAE acquisition in the newspapers? Was that before or after he scanned Peanuts, cut out Hagar the Horrible strip and quietly chuckled at Sally Forth? No, no! Bush has a place in this outrageous freak show we call government, but it most certainly is NOT as the leader; rather, as we all now know the leaker! But before anyone gives junior too much credit for the supposed leaks, please remember that he takes his orders from Cheney! I suggest that both, Bush and Cheney hold hands, just as Bush did with the Saudi prince, go before the American public and explain; at least it would be a start!

But back to our fun political circus where George is the Center-Ring lion tamer and he's made the US his personal pet feline. Sure, we look scary, make a lot of noise and for the most part the rest of the world sees us as the "King of the Jungle", a force to be reckoned with. But, Bush has turned us into his second-rate sideshow. We growl, sound ferocious and jump through the fiery hoops he's set for us. But then, we're just following his commands, loping back into our cage at the end of the day, hoping to get a pat on the head and a special treat when the show is done.

Kind of insulting isn't it? You see, like the majority of you, my time is scarce. Work, bill paying and trying to carve out some time for myself has become life's routine. But, like many of you, I absolutely can no longer stand by and watch this arrogant usurper and sociopath of questionable intelligence and intent continue leading this phenomenal country down the road of dishonor and embarrassment.

By now, you've probably guessed by my accent that I wasn't born in the United States. My birthplace is a charming village called Neustadt an der Weinstrasse in Germany, near Heidelberg. After graduating, I married an Air Force Pilot and moved to the United States for the first time. However, we spent many years alternating residences between Germany and the US. I proudly became an American citizen 13 years ago and I love America.

But back to my main subject, this inept, corrupt, lying and leaking "so-called" administration. I want you to understand where I am coming from. I believe we all have the right to know and more importantly to understand the consequences of our nation's leaders. My dedication to this site and to the American public doesn't come from a long family history of political involvement. Actually, it wasn't until I saw Bush, Governor of Texas at the time, flaunting his now infamous smirk, and publicly denying a 'stay of execution' for Karla Faye Tucker, the first woman to be executed in Texas since the civil war that I even paid attention to the political realm. I believe in a leader's responsibility to demonstrate a modicum of decorum and civility, especially to the public. Bush's demeanor was childishly excited and blatantly cruel. It was at that moment my life's path changed, although I don't think I knew it at the time. I was merely enraged at Bush's appalling behavior.

Especially after he stole the first presidential race with the connivance of his friends in high places! Just before the 2004 election I wrote a 17 page 'open letter' to the administration and that provided me a small amount of exposure. Although the Republican controlled press refused to print, I received in excess of 2,200 responses from all over the globe thanks to the on-line politically progressive media who linked my domain to their sites! I had put my fashion design business on HOLD because I felt compelled to take a stand against a power that I knew was not only wrong, stupid and ignorant, but also had the potential to become extremely dangerous! So, this is what I am doing now; talking to you and hoping my one voice will strike a chord and grow!

In the weeks and months that follow, I'll be broadcasting regular segments focusing on current events. The war in Iraq, the correct war statistics, the NSA, FISA, upcoming election issues and whatever's making news. I am not talking about another stuffy, incoherent and predominantly painful political program featuring "suits" from Capitol Hill, yammering on about the state of affairs in a language incomprehensible to anyone outside of D.C. This site is for the average person like myself, who is interested in important issues without having to decipher some secret code, or wade through enormous amounts of cryptic BS that usually accompanies political discussions. And, hopefully, we can share a laugh or two. Your comments are not only welcomed, but also encouraged and you may contact me any time via my Feedback section.

Have you ever noticed how good old "W"s presidency reign resembles a slew of weeknight sitcoms? Unfortunately, unlike these popular parodies, the world doesn't revolve around heart-warming family epiphanies. Junior's 2000 campaign commercials remind me of Jethro from the Beverly Hillbillies. Just a good ole' bumbling, goofy country boy, mesmerized by the swanky fast-life of the 'Big City'. "Gosh, Ellie-May, we got ourselves a cement pond!" He certainly couldn't have made it to the big white mansion all by himself had he not gotten a free ride on the back of the family wagon; it's not like he was doing anything else.

He was handed the presidential office in 2000 by a judicial system that, by the way, he now ignores and labels too inadequate to consult on silly matters like illegal and unlawful wire-tapping! We heard a lot of exposition about what "W" thought, but, in the end you just want to take him by the lapels and shout, "Oh my God, you're too stupid to draw breath!" Stick to drinking martini's and dodging your life's responsibilities!"

His first term included one of our worst national tragedies, 9/11. No matter what ridiculous stunts "W" pulled, or how he "showboated", I still remember the fighter pilot costume he pranced around in, and, with his very best smirk standing under the "Mission Accomplished" banner; this happened about 3 years ago in the midst of a war that hasn't ended yet....

After the initial shock and violation, we as Americans experienced, I began to notice a certain metamorphosis in Bush. I knew he reminded me of someone, I just could not figure out who. Then, one evening, a friend's re-run playing in the background, it hit me... America is being run by Gomer Pile! The similarities were striking: his speech is quirky and odd, for a character on a TV hit show, that's great. For the leader of the most powerful Nation in the world, simply embarrassing! Nobody actually knows what Gomer does most of the time other than getting into trouble a lot for making stupid decisions by not following orders correctly. You think he has something to do with people and you know he has to report to someone higher-up in another office. Although being admonished numerous times, Gomer, I mean junior, still made inane decisions but amazingly by now began to believe his way is the only way. Anyone who disagrees with him is wrong and unpatriotic. Even his Boss Cheney keeps reminding us over and again of the very same fact; makes me want to tell the man to just go and 'shoot something..' Everything revolves around "W" and his will. In the world of psychology it's called Megalomania; in D.C. however they call it 'strong leadership'. Cheney mentioned he could sing on American Idol. I can certainly envision him: shotgun in hand, fascinating the audience with a song of each of his 5 deferments with the usual grotesquely contorted face; he must be a very unhappy man, can't find stationery to write on, has to make his notes on the edge of the newspapers, small wonder the man is sporting a permanent sneer!

The 2004 presidential race was a strange amalgamation for "W". America was running an enormous deficit, our foreign relations were paper-thin and domestically the unemployment rate had skyrocketed! And yet, he won again, well, sort of. Morality was the issue that supposedly put him over the top. Personally I have always been convinced that the culprits were the purposely incorrect programmed voting machines. If these voting machine 'irregularities' were to happen in another country, the US would promptly condemn them in the strongest terms! I, along with the rest of the world am simply floored with what these cowboys have gotten away with so far!

And that brings us to today. 15 years ago nobody would have ever believed George Bush's secret identity would be that of a Maxwell Smart. Don Adams should be rolling over in his grave, God rest his soul. The whole idea of illegal spying for National Security is absurd and insulting! At least "Agent 86" in his blundering, ill fated and misconceived course of actions, genuinely tried to do the right thing.

Does that make Gonzales, "Agent 99?" Always protecting his partner, (he is now even sporting a pretty good imitation of W's smirk) no matter what the consequences? Several weeks ago at the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings, Gonzales was not even required to testify under oath! We are all aware as to why we have these harebrained and inconsequential hearings, then WHY do we let this man insult our intelligence?

And what exactly did Gonzales say? Not much... When asked if the executive branch had the power to open e-mails, regular mail, or even commit burglary jobs, (can you say Watergate?) Gonzales refused to answer. When asked if the administration had already ordered searches of American homes and offices without a warrant Gonzales refused to answer. There is not one iota of doubt in my mind that since I published my "open letter to the inept Bush administration" my name is gracing their list as well! I'll let you know just what was found in my file as I have hired an Attorney to check into this matter; at the very least I see a lawsuit concerning a telephone provider in my future. But my favorite non-answer came when Senator Feinstein asked if the president could suspend the Posse Comitatus Act, which prohibits the use of the US military against US citizens. The query was straightforward and Gonzales wasn't even under oath! He stonewalled the committee and what does that say about our government? Perhaps I have too vivid an imagination, but isn't it highly conceivable that the entire Bush, ahem-- bunch might have many more secret programs than we, the people ever imagined, in direct contravention of US law?

Now consider this: How big must the conspiracy be for a man who cannot be tried for perjury to refuse a simple yes or no answer? Perhaps it's because we as a Nation have faced this kind of criminal power mongering before and the consequences were dire! We have selective memory and revisionist history galore in America. If there were an Olympic competition for it, the US would sweep the podium. On August the 9th 1974, Nixon resigned his presidency just as he was about to be impeached; it was a dark Era for America. Just 3 years later in an interview with David Frost, Nixon confessed that it was his fervent belief that the president, by virtue of his position, was above the law. Sounds familiar?

The wave of American dissent, occasionally violent, which followed in the wake of the Cambodian incursion where Nixon ordered the bombing of Cambodia and concealed it from Congress, prompted Nixon to demand better intelligence about the people who were opposing him. Not just the Cambodian regime (read that as al-Qaeda) but anyone who opposed him (take that as anyone so 'unpatriotic' as to disagree with him) Hey, didn't someone else say that?

I'll give you an Excerpt from the 1977 Interview:

FROST:

So, in a sense, what you're saying is that there are certain situations, where the president can decide that it's in the best interest of the nation and do something illegal.

NIXON:

Well, when the president does it that means that it is not illegal.

FROST:

By definition?

NIXON:

Exactly.

Exactly? Somebody pinch me because I must be dreaming! And who among us doesn't find it slightly ironic that Richard Nixon also cited "National Security" as the motive for his actions?

Article 11 of Article 1, the Impeachment against Nixon was "illegal and unlawful wiretapping". Add to that "breaking and entering" and you have one of the worst political scandals in the world, until now!

Back then Congress was honest enough to recognize criminal intent and action. Of course at the time Congress was predominantly Democratic. You know, all those "flip-flopers" who were so unpatriotic as to deny one man the authority to commit multiple felonies. Bad..... BAD Democrats!

It was in 1978 that FISA was created. From 1978 to 2004 FISA has approved 18, 748 Warrants and rejected only 5! That's 750 warrants a year for 16 years, 62 each month and 2 a day, including Saturdays and Sundays. That's a better ROI than any of the S and L's Neil Bush ran into the ground, and it's certainly a more dedicated record than Bush's absentee military career. Dishonesty and stupidity seem to be a family tradition....

So why exactly did this pseudo "Commander" and Thief think it necessary to by-pass the congressionally approved, streamlined legal process to violate the country's judicial system? Because.... I don't know, might he have known it was wrong? No? He was just protecting the country, you say? Why, when addressing a crowd in Buffalo, New York, did he assure us by saying: "and let me be clear, when we're talking about going after terrorists, we're talking about getting a court order", perhaps he just carried the wrong cue cards with him!

Do you honestly believe that this liar with an IQ that matches his approval ratings is seriously capable of protecting anything? Visualizing junior 'protecting us' and making America safer sounds hysterical to me, especially when hundreds of Cattle and Horses had to be removed from the Crawford Ranch because 'W' was terrified and would not go near them! What a macho man we have occupying this White House! Or, do you mean 'protection' as in the same way he and his boss misled America into a virtually un-winnable war and practically handed Iraq to Iranian extreme fundamentalists with an appetite for nuclear weapons? Or, perhaps his Road-Map for Peace, which now democratically catapulted the terrorist group Hamas into office! Frankly, from where I'm standing it appears that we, the people need protection from this delusional abomination! Bush has been caught time and again in lies and intentional misinformation; the WMD's, Iraq's nuclear program, he and the rest of the gang continue to mislead about ties between Iraq and Al Qaeda! In addition, America has become a Nation of torture to the World!

Now it has come to light that in 2003 Iran has made a peace proposal to the Bush administration that included: recognition of Israel, allowing nuclear inspections, full compliance with non-proliferation treaties, ceasing support of Hamas and Islamic Jihad and requiring Hizbollah to become a non-violent political party. In return the Iranians wanted a "halt in US hostile behavior and rectification of status of Iran in the US" The Bush administration rejected this proposal out of hand! Taking the Iranians up on this proposal would have constituted a giant step towards peace in the Middle East. Apparently peace in the mid- east does not suit the Bush administration, terrorism and fear, however, does serve their purposes! Bush's rejection of this offer has resulted in the continued provision of aid and comfort to our enemies, as surely as if Bush had done so directly! THAT, ladies and gentlemen, is TREASON!

Do you remember when junior said "I've earned capital in this election and I'm going to spend it!" Judging from his approval ratings he sure did! Although I have yet to figure out how anyone can 'earn' capital from something he stole? I'll let O'Reilley from the Fox Channel explain this one in his usual convoluted way! Or perhaps Hannity, who belongs to the same Fox-kennel, might explain to the American public why we virtually have to brace ourselves every other day because someone in this looney bin, masquerading as an "administration" is either denying a serious corruption and/or allegation charge. Seems to me that Hannity needs to find himself another Idol!

While growing up in Europe I often heard the US being referred to as the "land of the impossible possibilities", it was meant as a compliment! Now I get chills when I think of these words, especially when the topic making news is that these arrogant and criminal characters supposedly have been illegally and unlawfully wire-tapping more than 200 million Americans! Now we all finally know why Gonzales replied, "I can't give you any assurances" when asked if the Government is spying on purely domestic communications, not contacting anyone overseas without a warrant! In addition, Gonzales is now aspiring to prosecute journalists by citing espionage laws from 1917! In essence, he is threatening to prosecute journalists for exposing his own criminal acts! The man's audacity never ceases to amaze me. I strongly encourage an ignorant Mr. Gonzales to rein in some of his misplaced bravado and educate himself by reading a little document called the bill of rights, especially the first amendment, it's a page-turner! My, what an illustrious government we have!

Several weeks ago Bush rewarded his lackey, Michael Hayden, the architect of the now infamous NSA illegal and unlawful wire-tapping program to be the head of the CIA! Hold onto your seats, because it'll be a smooth glide into a totalitarian government where words like coercion, censorship and total conformity will be just a few of many of your every-day happy diet, as junior announced not too long ago that he makes the rules!

Recent polls suggested that about 65% of American's said they weren't concerned with the illegal wiretapping. I do understand the rationale behind the general apathy!

Sadly, there is so much more at stake of which 65% of our population is either unable or unwilling to acknowledge. Please consider this: at what point do we say "enough?" Why do we hold our family, colleagues and complete strangers to a higher standard of integrity than we do our nations leaders? When do we deem illegal behavior acceptable, and if we, as a Nation overlook this conduct, do we then have a right to take a stand and say "NO" when the focus of our government's illegal actions are turned on us?

It might sound preposterous, I know; but the McCarthy Era and the 'Red Scare' are not that far removed from our Nations History. How many people were harassed, lost their jobs and their homes because our Government was afraid that everyone who disagreed with the current political agenda was a part of some fictitious Communist uprising? Are you 65% ready to defend yourself against a governing body that found an old e-mail forwarded to you by someone you barely know, that questions a president's authority? Trust me, your name is on at least half a dozen "junk mail" rosters and some of those are political in nature. Are you ready to be questioned about your affiliations because your answering machine picked up a message from a wrong number? So, to you 65% I can only say that NO ONE can afford to turn a blind eye to the illegal dealings of this administration as YOU just might be labeled their NEXT ENEMY COMBATANT!

"W" has thrown down the proverbial gauntlet, daring Congress and the American people to stop his definitive illegal and criminal behavior. To protect our constitutional system and hard-earned democracy it is time we get smart and prove to other Nations and ourselves that we are the most powerful Nation on the planet; both in force and integrity!

If you care about the future of this Nation, your children and grandchildren, PLEASE realize that we have the worst TERRORISTS and KILLERS running this White House! Just because Bush wears a suit and tie doesn't mean he's not guilty of genocide. In case no one has noticed, up to hundreds of bodies are piling up daily in Iraq. Bush calls it progress, I guess to him it would be; if no one is left in Iraq, all of the oil can then be divvied up between his cronies and himself! It is sheer Utopia to believe that Iraq will ever be a Westernized democracy in our lifetime, as anyone familiar with their xenophobic and theological centered culture can assure you!

The insurgents already storm prisons and police stations. Mark my word's, it is only a matter of time before they shake Saddam lose! Aren't you all glad that the great visionary Cheney with his ever stranger facial contortions announced eon's ago that the Insurgency is in it's 'last throes...', when anyone who can read a dictionary and possesses some 'gray matter' realizes that Iraq is in the middle of a civil war! I very respectfully ask the American Congress to IMPEACH these arrogant Charlatans, Bush and Cheney!

America whole-heartedly needs to applaud Mr. Harry Taylor from Charlotte, North-Carolina for his courage to tell Bush that he never felt more ashamed of the leadership of his country." Since Bush's approval ratings took yet another nose-dive, Mr. Taylor's sentiments apparently are being shared by many! After all the embarrassment and pain Bush and Cheney have put America and other countries through, including the latest 'leak-stories'; I am truly appalled and at a loss as to why these liars are still in power! No wonder the rest of the world shake their heads in disbelief @ this Laurel and Hardy" team who apparently has the permission of the American people to make their own corrupt rules as they go along! It would be almost comical if these clowns hadn't created such a horrific situation!

Certainly I'm not the only person who thinks that Bush now needs to fire himself! If these very serious criminal political offenses had been committed elsewhere, Bush would be calling for their heads and ask to have them tried in the Hague for war crimes! Considering what the Republicans made an immensely capable President Clinton and, as a result, all of America go through during Mr. Clinton's impeachment hearings, where NO ONE was either hurt or killed, I find it horrifying that most of the American public can't see where this country's leakers are taking us! Especially after the latest 'saber-rattling' about using nuclear weapons as junior had been promising us for a LONG time!

America, WE HAD ALL BETTER WAKE UP!

Thank you for taking the time watching my first broadcast; I will present other segments on a regular basis, albeit they are generally a fraction of the time as this one. I am mainly presenting stories with more insight and research than you can find on the "sanitized" news!

And, otherwise I'm just waiting for a higher power to cancel my show and send me into cable syndication!

Mercie, Au Revoir!
